President

2017 is an auspicious year for the Photographic Society of Penang. Two great events have dominated our Calendar. One, the 11th Penang International Photo Salon 2017 and the other, the celebration of our society's 50th Anniversary. We are 50 now!

The Photographic Society of Penang was founded by a group of young teachers in 1967 led by their headmaster, Lim Boon Hock. Its objective was mainly to promote photography in the state of Penang. But then, 50 years on, it has now moved its players into another level, that of the global arena.

With us are a number of veteran members who are still actively participating and helping out in the society. The Salon Chairman Khor Sek min and the Salon Secretary Peter Ho, both with immense experience in running salon photography since 1981, are both examples of such committed members. A big thanks to them for a great job done in bringing the 11th Penang International Photo Salon 2017 to Penang again.

Continuity is the life line in a club's survivor. Over the last few years saw the influx and renewal of young members joining us and the upsurge of photographic activities and events organised by our Activity Chairman, Terry Tan Tong Toon. Upstarts like him and Paul Goh Seong Por, the Salon treasurer and his salon online management has shown great potential in providing a lifeline in the continuity of the society.

Our 50th Dinner Celebration aims to bring about more veteran members to the forefront once again and to revitalise their skills, of course now in digital format, after all photography is a lifelong hobby.

Once again, I would like to thank each and everyone who have played a part and contributed to our events. Thank you.

Chuang Kwong Sheuan

Salon Advisor

International photographic salon competitions have grown steadily over the decades since their inauguration in 1950's. In particular, photographic salons recognized by the PSA (Photographic Society of America), FIAP (The International Federation of Photographic Art) and GPU (Global Photographic Union) have become some of the best platforms for photographers to exchange ideas and learn from one another.

Digitalization of photography has brought immense changes, and is a trend that makes photography common place. Photographic salons have also advanced technologically. Historically, we had to endure tedious and time-consuming chores of film development and printing, packaging, back-and-forth mailing, registration fee payments, jurying selection, and record keeping. But today, these steps can be carried out on computer keyboards, simplifying the entire process. Not only do we save on expenditures, we have even saved ourselves the headaches of losing submitted works and registration fees in the mail.

Thus technology has simplified complex salon activities, allowing worldwide photographic societies to compete in hosting international photographic salons. The number of salons has increased from fewer than 100 per year to over 400 each year now - an astonishing progress. Additionally, a swath of photographic salons have emerged in China. Gaining top-10 salon ranking has now become a much harder venture. Frequent competitions could cost a photographer nearly RM100,000 in registration fees; it is therefore no longer possible for a regular participant to enter each competition. As a result, salon organizers need to attract participants with every possible promotional trick, including group discount, additional award trophies and prize money, in order to reach the optimal participation size. Yet where there is competition there is improvement. I believe salons of the future will only reach greater horizons.

I would like to thank Mr. Xie Da Cai, the President of IUP (International Union of Photographers) for his generosity in sponsoring IUP recognition and prize trophies, which boost the attraction of our Penang International Photo Salon.

Last but not least, allow me to congratulate the winners of the Penang International Photo Salon, and the hardworking committee members of the Salon. Great work! Together we shall achieve new heights!

The Show is on! Our aim in re introducing photography of another level to Penang has being achieved. This puts us on the world map again as another salon photography destination after a lapse of 17 years. And soon our local achievers will be dominating the world map with theirs.

Penang has much to offer being multi cultural and a world heritage site. The annual festivals have attracted many photographers from abroad. The Photographic Society of Penang in fact has organised 3 major events in the past 2 decades - the 16th and 24th FAPA, and the Pride of Penang Heritage Photo Trail with participants from Asian countries, showcasing our rich cultural heritage and friendliness

The salon has drawn over 4000 digital images from over 40 countries. The bulk of it came mainly from China and, most surprisingly, Malaysia. The other major entries were from England, Germany, Hong Kong, India, Singapore, UAE, US & Vietnam. The draw must have been the 186 awards. Over 200 of these will be put on exhibition in collaboration with the 50th Anniversary Celebration of our society.

I would like to thank PSA, FIAP, GPU, IUP for their Patronage and approval to hold this salon and AIP and PSM for their medals. And also to Song Boon Keat for the SJT Award sponsorship.

A great thanks goes to also the Jury Panel who had travelled to Penang and has helped to make the selection which you can view on our websites and catalogue.

Lastly I wish to thank all the committee members for their part played in making the 11th Penang International Photo Salon 2017, a great success. Special thanks goes to Goh Seong Por Paul who did a great job in the online submission and of course my secretary, Ho Cheng Woh Peter, who did all the background work.

An Overview

I feel greatly honoured to be part of this salon event again as secretary making this post, the 9th. Whatever it is I still have not forgotten the very first batch of prints & slides of the 1st Penang International Photo Salon which I had laid eyes upon back then in 1981 with Song Jin Tek who was the brain child behind the event. With Song's driving passion in photography and determination to bring photography of a different level to Penang, I got myself involved as one of the few English speaking members in a dominantly Chinese speaking photography club, writing all the letters to PSA & FIAP - on a type writer and via snail mail then.

It is highly regrettable that Song is unable to be with us following his demise 2 years ago. However his name will perpetuate with the SJT memorial award for the Judges' choice for Best Local. The Song Jin Tek Memorial award is incidentally sponsored by his professional photographer son Song Boon Keat who dominates the commercial sector just as his father did in his hay days.

I made a prophecy 18 years ago when we held our 9th Penang International Photo Salon, that going digital will be inevitable. For all our 10 photo salons, we had to rely not on email, but snail mail for delivery. Waiting for the postman with registered parcels which needed our signature for endorsement and running to and fro from Post Offices to claim bigger parcels from group entries.

What a change! Today we rely on email and the internet, and let our fingers do the running, so to speak. Automation has preceded manual delivery with custom software performing the same job. But then, the man still needs to be there - to oversee, decides and administer. My prophecy has come true today. This is seen in almost all our salons now. As for us, using a High Definition TV in place of the old faithful color slide projector, the color vibrancy, clarity and tonal values comes alive. This has provided us a better platform to perform the impossible as what we perceive through post editing. No more dark room secrecy with the old faithful diazo chrome which was tedious in its process. Photoshop and softwares alike have replaced them creating stunning colours.

Marching on will be the copter drone which I think will catch on. This high end toy will soon fill the gap in shots beyond our reach when high angle shots makes the difference in impact and dimension, may soon dominate the scene as advancement in its ISO, camera lenses and sensors becomes a necessity. Of course ease in flying without all the hassle of pre settings take the sweat off the pilots and produce great drone photographers. Drone On!
